"Nathan Mooar joined the Church, Sept. 1831, in a revival meeting. He was a leading member of the church in Limebrook Parish, Ipswich, a man in complete contrast to the former Deacon Ellsworth, who had great energy and force, and was a large, powerful man with a big head. Nathan Mooar was small and refined, almost feminine, and looked little like a leader, but was one by love and tact and persuasiveness and winsomeness, and drew people into the church, and gave his life wholly to the Lord's service.

His words were always earnest; his prayers eloquent and fervid as though he spoke face to face with the Lord, were remembered years after he went away to another church. He was chosen Deacon of West Church in Andover and held office for 40 years; He died 1887, lamented by all who knew him." (By I.H.T. in a Limebrook paper.)

MOOAR FAMILY

Notes -4-

Joseph Chapman, who died in 1899, was brother to Elizabeth Chapman, wife of Deacon Nathan Mooar, who died Oct. 14, 1827. She was born in Ipswich, Feb. 10, 1818; died May 16, 1888; daughter of Joseph and Mary Chapman. Joseph Chapman, sr., was son of Amos Chapman and Mary Sumner and grandson of Edward. His father, Amos was shot at a military muster.

Mary Sumner was daughter of William Sumner and little Miss Emmerton. Joseph Emmerton, grandfather, of Casco, was murdered at his own door, never knew by whom, or why. He was a good man, loved by all.

He left a widow and 2 children. They, with others, left Casco, and during an Indian raid, put to sea in an old boat and drifted away, finally beaching at Ipswich. The little 3-year-old girl of the family married William Sumner.

MOOAR FAMILY

Ben Mooar, who married Hannah Phelps, Sept. 29, 1767, built his home, ( still standing, 1864) a little before Joshua Phelps grandfather built his,- south of the Phelps place across the road. Next John Trow came,-father of Wm. Trow- and bought it. Wm. Trow was squatted on the Tewksbury line, 1864.

After Trow died, Daniel Merrill went there to live. He was a native of West Andover, who, I think, married a Trow.

Jonathan Noyes of West Andover, brother to Aaron, bought the place and sold it to Richard Barker, who died in 1840. He was probably born in Methuen, and died childless.

The house was next sold at auction to Theodore Poor, and he let it to the widow of Timothy Poor, then to Rodney Lewis. Thomas Dunn, a newspaper carrier went there from Haverhill; next a Barker, from Maine, ( or Bubier or Booker), who moved in 1857 to Lowell.

Deacon Peter Smith bought from the heirs of Theodore Poor. The Boutwell home was the next to it.(Since 1864 the old home has been taken down and a modern one built on its site.)

Ebenezer Lovejoy had a cradle which Timothy (4) Mooar made at 1800.

Timothy (3) Mooar, born 1713, lived in a house that stood by the side of the lane,nearly in front of the Carruth place.

Timothy (4) lived near the pond, and is said to have been a wonderful skater, and his sister Mary, who kept house for him before she married Wm. Harris, <sup>1778,</sup> and the other girls in the family, were exceptionally expert on skates. Tim was a mechanical genius.

The MORRISON & MURRAY FAMILIES

The early home of the Morrison family was Haddington, on the banks of the Tyne, 17 miles east of Edinburg, Scotland. From there, the ancestors of the Andover line, went to Harwich, 50 miles to the south and near the English border.

He married in Boston, Sept. 29, 1795, Sally Phillips, who died Nov. 18, 1811, age 46. ( So. Ch.) His second wife was Mrs. Abigail Dodge of Farmsworth, N.H. Some say the old home was in South Danvers, the West Peabody part of Salem, and the second on the Topsfield-Middleton line. John (2), died 1700; having left a son:-

 NICHOLS FAMILY of Topsfield.

WILLIAM NICHOLS, was in Salem, 1637. He was born, 1599, as is evident from a deposition made in 1662, stating that he was then 63. He was given a grant in West Peabody, later part of Middleton, 1651, north of Bartholomew's first homestead. In his Will, made 1693, he mentions his wife, Mary. He built 1/3 of a mile north of Ferncroft Inn, later. He died in 1696, age 96.

In 1694 he made a deposition in Salem, that he had lived for 42 years on a farm he bought from Henry Bartholomew, which lay between Salem and Ipswich River. He paid tax rates in Salem for a time and then in Topsfield, after the line was run between the towns. Children:-

Two days after the deed to Isaac, William deeded 180 acres of the rest, to his son, John (2) and his wife Lydia, reserving the home he lived in. From all accounts, John built the old Ferncroft Inn. At any rate, his home was on the hill. The old homestead, which fell in, was in the valley. This was set off to Middleton in 1728.

John (2) conveyed to his son-in-law, Humphrey Case, a lot between the ice houses on the turnpike and Herculoft. The cellar hole, marking the home site, can still be seen.

The NOYES FAMILY
of ANDOVER -

Rev. William Noyes, rector of Choulderton, ( 11 miles from Salisbury and near the seat of the Earl of Pembroke,) was born in 1568; He married Anna Parker, who died and was buried in Choulderton, Mch. 7, 1657. She was sister to the Rev. Robert Parker.

Her will, made Mch. 18, 1655; probate Apr. 21, 1658, at Somerset House, London, leaves 1 sh. to son<sup>s</sup> Rev. James Noyes and Deacon Nicholas and cousin, ( nephew), the Rev. Thomas Parker, all of New England. These three came here in 1633.

William, the Rector, had most of his estate confiscated because he became a dissenter. His son the Rev. James and his colleague, Thomas Parker were for the presbytery as opposed to the congregation, and opposed the Boston platform.

James, born in Wiltshire, 1608; went to Brazenose College, Oxford, but did not graduate. He taught, for his uncle Thomas Parker, in the Free School of Newbury, England, until he came here to America. He became a preacher because of their influence.

He married Sarah Brown, daughter of Joseph Brown, of Southampton, Hants Co., England, just before they set sail from England in the MARY & JOHN, 1633. James d. Oct. 24, 1656 ; she d. Sept. 13, 1691. He left an estate of 657 ~~lbs.~~ 11sh; 6 d.

James, who inherited intellectual gifts from both sides of his family, was called one of the most learned and gifted of the Massachusetts preachers of his day. Even Mather,, one of his opponents spoke highly of his talents. He was said to be the father of the non-conformists, in this country.

Newbury, where he located, with Thos. Parker, and Nicholas, 1635, was then a lawless town, and the two preachers had their hands full.

The NOYES FAMILY
of ANDOVER -2-(in England )

The family historians trace their ancestry back to the Wm. de Noyers, of Norfolk Co., England, who is recorded 1086 in the DOOMESDAY BOOK. The name is also spelled Noers, de Nores, Denoires, De Noier, and finally Noier and Noyes.

Some claim that the name meant : of the Walnut Tree. Their crest was a chapeau turned up with ermine and a dove with olive branch in its beak, on top, -a coat of arms used by a William Noyes, who was Attorney General for Charles I.

Seekers insist that the original family had a Norman estate held by grant of William the Conqueror; and those still more imaginative trace the family spelling to Noye and to Noe, and so back to Noah and the Ark. All moonshine !

The NOYES FAMILY

In this article I thought to take up briefly the branch of the Noyes geneology from Col. Thomas (2), son of the Rev. James Noyes, of Newbury. He had two wives: Martha Pierce, and 2nd Elisabeth Greenleaf, from whom the Andover lines descend. She was the daughter of Capt. Stephen Greenleaf and Miss Elisabeth Coffin, and a grand-daughter of Capt. Edmond (1) and Sarah Dole of the old Kents Island family.(not proved yet.)

Among her children was Joseph (3) Noyes of Newbury who married Hannah Wadleigh, a daughter, so far as we have learned, of Jonathan Wadleigh, and doubtless an Exeter girl, name unknown.

Jonathan (4) Noyes of Newbury, last of the ancestry there, in our branch, was a very fine soldier. He was Capt. of his Co., and had six sons with him in the War of the Revolution.

Aaron (5), the baby, at 17, went as drummer boy, and was at Bunker Hill, and served three more years, although not credited so on the Army Rolls. Wadleigh (5) another son, was wounded and died; Joseph, (5) a Lieut. ended his days, a widower, in the home of his brother in Andover.

"Life", as they called the other, (Eliphalet), Dudley and Jonathan, all served nobly.

The history of these does not belong to Andover, and is well told in the Noyes Book.

Jonathan (4) Noyes married Lydia Bancroft, daughter of Thomas Bancroft and Lydia Emery, of Reading, in 1742. They were contemporary with William Morse and Phebe Bodwell, two more descendants of Belligerants. To these two lines: Morse and Noyes, came a host of Colonial honors.( So, if any descendant craves the joys of "bragging" and the expense of proving, and can wait at the tail of a long cue of applicants to that overloaded company of Colonial Dames, here is her chance.)

Lydia named Aaron, the little drummer boy of '75, after her cousin in the Bancroft line, as it was not a Noyes name. Aaron came here and settled in West Andover, from Newbury, about 1781. He had married, in 1779, Phebe Morse, whose folks had gotten as far as Methuen by that time. Wm. her father, came back to West Andover, and died at the home of his daughter and Aaron, and is buried in the Noyes lot in West Parish Yard, but is not well recorded. His widow lived to be 93, dying at her son's home in 1825.

Aaron Noyes, by all accounts, was a loveable man. My aunt Foster, one of his younger grand-children, was a favorite. The old Colonial Mansion, in his day on the River Road, was sold to Crowley, and burned later. After Aunt Foster's mother died, she went to live at grandpa Noyes' and the house seemed to her, large and well furnished.

Aaron used to cross over to Methuen in a boat at the Glen Falls point to do his shopping and she would sit at Noyes' Rocks, now covered by the overflow from the dam below- to wait his return.

In 1830, when the United States gave money to all our towns, Aaron, then a little old man, attended the three days' Town Meeting, and raised aloft on the shoulders of his loyal friends, pleaded that the $3.00 apiece allotted to every man, woman and child in Andover, be applied to the erection of a new Town Farm to accomodate the feeble survivors of the War of the Revolution and of 1812.

The Alms House was built later of Frye Village brick, and our gift from Uncle Sam still stands. Salem built a workhouse for convicts with her allotment but ours is the only Old Folks' Home, so given.

Aaron (6) Noyes, who married Dolly Jordan, moved to Yonkers, N.Y. He died in Newark, N.J. We had visits, at long intervals, from his line.

Lydia (6) Noyes married Samuel Osgood and was mother of the first Mrs. Thomas Clark, and grandmother of Jesse.

Frederick (6) Noyes lived in West Andover, where he died in 1874, at the age of 80. He married Hannah Varnum of the Dracut line from George (1). His daughter Mary (7), married Bimsley Stevens and lived near Frye Village. The Fieldings and Lovejoys took the girls of his line.

Hannah Varnum (7) married Moody Abbott and lived on the Ward place up the road to the church. Fanny (7) married William Chickering and had one son George, who survived. Sarah R. (7), married a minister, the Rev. Joseph Burbank, of Plattsburgh, N.Y., an Andover Seminary student. Caroline (7) had two husbands and lived out west somewhere in Indiana. Emily (7) married Daniel Shannon and the whole family succumbed to tuberculosis.

Ellen (7), born in 1827, married a Rhode Island farmer named Burdette. Fred, called Jr., was a son who had an eccentric streak from some old line. He was born in 1829, and married, in 1882, a widow, Isabella Bailey. He died, almost a hermit, in 1898, and she married a Chelmsford man.

Charles D. Noyes was one of the most enterprising of the sons of Frederick (6). Though not a strong appearing man, he had good health, and throughout <sup>most of</sup> his life conducted a drug store in Charlestown. He married Harriet E. Williams of that city. He finally returned to Andover, and died here. His surviving son, Henry, is one of our most respected residents today.

The children of Jonathan (6) Noyes, were not many, I judge. He moved to Hopkinton, N.H., but died here in Andover in 1861, -War time.

His wife, prior to marriage had been a widow Childs, of Londonderry, and she settled in Lawrence with a son, George Childs, whose school days were the same as mine.

George's mother was a favorite with all of us children, whom she treated with sugar plums, and we always enjoyed the visits of " Aunt Childs" as we called her, and her aid in the family mending. She had a shop near the Lawrence jail, for years. A step-daughter, Jane, by Jonathan's first wife, was Mrs. Joseph Gage of South Lawrence , who lived over John Howard's store at the Bridge.

Wadleigh (6) Noyes married Phebe Ballard of the old Andover line, who had gone to the hospitable old farm of cousins at Peterboro, N.H. The oldest son, Nathan (7) died aged 20. Aaron (7) who came next, had a strange history. Born in 1829, he married first, Sarah Lovejoy, daughter of Ebenezer, and moved to Nashua, N.H. He then wandered West, forsaking his wife, and may have contracted another marriage. We never got the whole of his story nor farther clue to any family. Little Mary (7) died at 3 yrs., in 1833. Josiah Milton (7) died of consumption at a home in Boston, unmarried.

Moses (7) died at 5, in 1839. We recall William Gilbert who lived with his father, and left no children. Twins: Mary and Martha were born in 1839 and Martha lived until 1919. She married Harvey Leach in 1882, but left no children.

Mary , her twin, married Capt. Edwin Whitcomb, and lived in Melrose where they had three daughters; my last record is not up to date.

Alfred (7), the youngest, died in 1887, at 46. He left a widow, Mary Lovejoy and a son John Lovejoy(8) Noyes, who was, at the time of this writing, on the Lovejoy place, near Joseph Lovejoy's.

Introduction

The purpose of this study is to investigate the effects of the proposed system on the performance of the system. The study is divided into two main parts: a theoretical analysis and an experimental evaluation. The theoretical analysis is based on the principles of the system and the experimental evaluation is based on the results of the experiments.

The first part of the study is a theoretical analysis of the system. This part is based on the principles of the system and the experimental evaluation is based on the results of the experiments.

Theoretical Analysis

The theoretical analysis is based on the principles of the system and the experimental evaluation is based on the results of the experiments.

The second part of the study is an experimental evaluation of the system. This part is based on the results of the experiments and the theoretical analysis is based on the principles of the system.

The experimental evaluation is based on the results of the experiments and the theoretical analysis is based on the principles of the system.

The results of the experiments show that the proposed system has a significant effect on the performance of the system.

Experimental Evaluation

Daniel Noyes d. 1716 at 42., sd. Coffin's NEWBURY.

" As you are-so was I-
God did call- I did dy-
Now children all-
Whose name is Noyes-
Make Jesus Christ
Your only choice."

Timothy Noyes who d. 1718 had about the same advice and rhyme similar.
-----

James (2) Noyes was said to be as fully gifted as his father. He was a physician as well as a minister, and was a chaplain in the War. He received a grant of land at Voluntown, Ct., and was one of the first trustees of Yale. He was a clergyman in Conn., but could not legally marry persons until 1696.
-----

In 1649 the wife of Nicholas Noyes, of Newbury, was summoned before the Court for WEARING A SILK HOOD. She was dismissed on proving that her husband was worth more than 200 lbs.

-----
Mrs. Boynton says that Col. Thos. Noyes had a freehold lot, 1 1/2 mi. above where they live at Pike Stave Hill. George Noyes, a descendant lives there. Sent me views of the old home of James (1) still standing on Parker St. Newbury. Judge Sam'l Sewell, a pupil of James lived close by.
